Limpopo hold breath for Ndlovu Choir in US.

Limpopo Premier has called on South Africans to hold breath for Ndlovu Choir currently in the US.

The Limpopo based outfit from Moutse near Groblersdal mesmerized the American audience in their first appearance at the 'Americas Got Talent' session 14 show earlier this year.

On Tuesday, they survived yet again the judges' cut moving through the quarter finals.

To stay in the show and move to semi finals, the choir will need enough votes from the public.

'Its unfortunate that we cant vote for them here at home, and therefore only need to hold our breath and pray', says Mathabatha.

The results for this stage will be announced on Thursday night, 22 August 2019.

If they win, Ndlovu Choir will be the first in the African continent and in South Africa ever to win in this prestigious competition 'America' s Got Talent'.

Issued by Limpopo Provincial Government.
